What's New In Personal Mailing List?

Database - 5.0 by Direct Access, Inc. The program allows people to create and maintain an online mailing list quickly and easily. A data source is added to the program to get data from all commonly used databases and import records into a personal database. A database can also be saved in the form of an ASCII file. Saving a database as an ASCII file allows you to copy and paste the records into your existing data structure. Data can be exported into an ASCII file or a DBF file. The program has a range of options, like sorting, to make it easy to maintain lists. The program is designed for sending mass mailings, creating customized address lists. It can be used by a small business or as an additional solution to your home-based mailing list. The Personal Mailing List is easy to use, simple to implement, and low priced.
